

CAMO Signs Agreement With Adecco, The World's Largest Human Resource Solutions Providers

Woodbridge, NJ – July 1, 2002 --- The world's largest human resource solutions providers, Adecco, has signed a master contract agreement for CAMO to provide IT consulting services for Adecco's global client base.

Adecco SA is the world's largest and most successful HR solutions company, encompassing staffing, career services, executive search and recruitment. It has over 6000 offices across 60 countries. It is ranked 315 in the Global Fortune 500 rankings.

Adecco recognized CAMO's expertise in helping companies integrate complex IT solutions across multiple platforms and its reputation as a premiere IT systems integration and consulting company.

Major corporations are increasingly recognizing CAMO's world-class IT consulting expertise and software capabilities.

CAMO's consulting expertise is in high demand from leading financial services institutions, technology companies, and a host of other product and service providers.

CAMO's KPU technology is recognized for its value as an effective decision support environment by organizations that include Unilever, Inmarsat, and Land O' Lakes, the U.S. largest dairy operation.

What Makes The KPU So Unique

Most product concept development systems are built with data models that essentially are static. CAMO's artificial intelligence technology makes data models dynamic, meaning they learn by themselves according to the information they process, or in human terms, experience. This means that real-time decision support systems can be much more cost effective because they do not require teams of statisticians to continually keep them up to date. The artificial intelligence does the work of those statisticians in real-time so people throughout the product development process can understand the dynamics of real-time market conditions.

“This contract once again recognizes that we are trusted by a company that serves the world’s largest corporations,” said Bjorn Skare, CAMO’s chief executive officer. “This is just the start. We are excited about the opportunities that await us on multiple fronts.”
